REPUBLICANS IN "SQUEEZE PLAY" IN HOUSE TODAY

Out-Maneuver Horner's Supporters: Force Action on NRA

Springfield, Ill., April 27—(AP)—Forcing consideration of the state NRA bill, Republican leaders today launched an effort to kill it in the House by striking the enacting clause.

Confident they could defeat the administration's measure for state cooperation with the recovery administration, the Republicans worked a "squeeze play" by refusing to vote for companion appropriation bills to the gas tax diversion program for school relief.

That forced the Democrats to call up the NRA plan, which had been held on second reading since late Wednesday because the majority party, weakened by absentees, did not dare attempt to insert the amendments wanted by the Governor.

Elmer J. Schnackenberg of Chicago, Republican leader, soon moved to strike the enacting clause, which would kill the bill if it prevailed.

Employ Strategy
Approximately a hundred Representatives were present, with Democrats having a slight edge in numbers.

The strategy was that the Republican would vote for the essential school bills only after the NRA measure was disposed of. Schnackenberg made a bitter attack against the NRA, saying it has not been responsible for recovery progress but has hampered the nation, since other countries are making "even greater strides."

"We who do not have the collateral intelligence of the brain trusters are beginning to wonder where the Democrats are taking us, the Republican leader said. "The Democrats and the brain trusters violate the economical and governmental precedents of the United States."

"Safe For Socialism"
"One Democratic President, Wilson, sought to make the world safe for democracy and now we have dictators. Fascism and other forms of despotism."

"Another Democratic President, Roosevelt, is seeking to make the world safe for Socialism. We do not know but we fear what the results will be."

Schnackenberg argued that the bill is unconstitutional.

Richard J. Lyons, Lake county Republican, read a telegram from the Foulds Milling Company protesting that its Libertyville plant is being closed because of NRA restrictions.

The letter was:
Text of Protest
"We protest most earnestly against the state industrial recovery act now before the House for consideration."

"Because of the national NRA activities and restrictions, for the first time in our history we are shutting down tonight for an indefinite period of two months or longer, necessitating the throwing out of employment of more than 150 men and women."

"Any further legislation along this line would, we believe, be permanently disastrous to the macaroni industry. Please get in touch with the committee in charge and file our protest and do what you can to defeat this law."

MAJ. GRIFFITH ATTACKS
Des Moines, April 27—(AP)—Major John L. Griffith today attacked policies of the Roosevelt new deal for the second time in a fortnight in a Des Moines address.

He voiced specific opposition to President Roosevelt, centering one of his criticisms on the principle of a "planned society and planned economies" set out by the President in his book, "Looking Forward."

Speaking two weeks ago before a Drake relay rally in the Shrine Temple, Major Griffith declared himself an exponent of "rugged individualism" as against a government which "penalizes the strong to help the weak."

Besides his mention of the Roosevelt book, Major Griffith made a general sweeping criticism of the new deal philosophy.

REVIVIFIED, DOG'S HIGHER BRAIN IS DEAD

Canine Subject for Experiments Laps Milk Eagerly

Berkeley, Calif., April 27—(AP)—The pink tongue of a dog revived from death lapped eagerly as milk was poured into its mouth and Dr. Robert E. Cornish said today he hoped the animal's increasing strength eventually would enable it to survive and thereby advance his revivification experiment to aid mankind.

Dr. Cornish, young research worker at the University of California, believes his theory of revivification some day may be applied successfully to human beings who have died from heart failure, shock, submersion and asphyxiation.

The animal, now known as "13" because it was put to death clinically on Friday, April 13, appears to be in a deep stupor and Dr. Cornish explained the dog has not recovered his mental faculties.

"I hope the dog's brain eventually will be restored to the condition it was before death," Dr. Cornish said.

Dead Four Minutes
"The dog was dead four minutes by medical standards. It was asphyxiated, the heart had stopped beating, it ceased to breathe and its blood had halted its circulation. There is no question that the dog was dead."

"Then I injected heparin to start its heart and defibrillated blood in its veins and within a minute its heart was beating, but too rapidly."

"This rapid heart movement which reached 220 beats a minute, quickly wore out the hearts of two dogs on which we experimented previously. To give the heart something to pump back into the arteries, we injected a salt solution and the beating slowed down to normal."

Dr. Cornish explained that part of the brain which controls physical functions has returned to normal, but the part wherein lies the higher intellect appears to have been damaged severely by the animal's death.

TWO CONVICTS KIDNAP PAIR OF POLICEMEN

Desperate Criminals Make Escape from San Quentin

San Quentin, Calif., April 27—Two desperate convicts, heavily armed, today held the fate of two kidnaped policemen in their hands.

The pair, Wanda T. Stewart, 29-year-old robber and Walter H. Wyeth, 40, robber and forger, escaped from San Quentin prison yesterday after slugging a guard.

They fled in an automobile in which the policemen had been seeking them with their intended captors as hostages.

Arms known to be in the possession of the convicts include three revolvers, two rifles, a shotgun, a hunting knife and many rounds of ammunition. Except for one pistol taken from the prison guard, the weapons were in the police automobile.

Officers Surprised
Summoned to the prison alarm, Officers A. M. Dewey and Phil Le-corne of San Rafael found the convicts hiding in a freight yard where they had fled after beating and binding their guard, Charles L. Green, who was assigned to watch a gang of prisoners at work outside the walls.

Kenneth Wulbern, service station attendant who witnessed the abduction, said the officers apparently were surprised to find the convicts armed when the pair suddenly leaped on the running board of the police car. The machine drove away with Dewey at the wheel before Wulbern realized what was happening.

Prison guards, county officers and state highway patrolmen spread throughout the northern part of the state in an attempt to corner the fugitives. All highways especially those leading into Nevada, through the rugged Sierra Nevada mountains, were closely guarded.

Both of the convicts were serving five-year-to-life sentences.

New Time Card on Northwestern Line Effective Sunday

With the advent of daylight saving time in Chicago Sunday a new time card will go into effect on the Northwestern Line and the departure time of three trains from Dixon will be different. Under the new schedule No. 20, the first east-bound local passenger, will leave Dixon at 6:05 A. M. instead of 7:35 and will arrive in Chicago at 8:25 A. M. instead of 9:20; local No. 4, east bound, will leave at 2:30 P. M. instead of 3:30 and will arrive in Chicago at 6:05 P. M. instead of 7:05; while No. 3, west-bound, will leave Chicago at 5:45 A. M. instead of 6:45 and will arrive in Dixon at 9:32 A. M. instead of 10:32.

WIDE HUNT IS ON
Fifield, Wis., April 27—(AP)—A man believed to be George (Baby Face) Nelson, quick-shooting gunman of the John Dillinger gang, early today was believed in near range of a posse that had tracked him in the northern Wisconsin woods.

The man the authorities think is the machine gunning pal of the elusive Dillinger and who was identified as the gangster who moved down Federal Agent C. Carter Baum when the Dillinger crew shot their way to freedom last Sunday near Mercer, was believed to be making his last stand against the law.

Once during the hours before dawn the "Baby Face" was reported to have been surrounded by Federal Agents and Deputy Sheriffs in the desolate wooded area of this section, but as the hours wore on and no further definite trace of the gangster was found it was believed that Nelson might have made good his escape after all. All Sheriffs of the section, however, were beating the woods and side roads to scare him out.

Steals Spotlight
The trail of the Dillinger marksman, who momentarily at least stole the spotlight of notoriety from his chief, was still being hunted by 5,000 or more officers.

was first picked up in the village of Lac du Flambeau, northeast of Fifield, when an automobile was stolen there by a man the authorities are convinced was Nelson. He apparently had been hiding in the vicinity of the Lac du Flambeau Indian Reservation, having escaped from the Sunday night fighting at Mercer in the car in which Baum rode to his death.

This car was found abandoned on a deserted road near Boulder Junction, approximately 25 miles northeast of Lac du Flambeau.

Apparently having supplied himself with a new car the fugitive sought to make his escape to some other section when information, coming from an undisclosed source, tipped the officers as to his whereabouts, and the hunt was on.

Clammers Cannot Begin Operations in Rock Till June

Clammers who have been operating in Rock river will not be permitted to begin operations before June 2, according to a ruling of the state Department of Conservation, which was made known here today. Rock river is listed as a fish preserve which prevents the beginning of clamming operations before June 2, while in waters not declared to be fish preserves, clamming is permitted to start work April 15. The season closes Nov. 30.

The attention of clammers is directed to the ruling of the Conservation department prohibiting the digging of clams or mussels in Rock river before June 2 to prevent arrest and prosecution. An erroneous report recently indicated April 15 as the opening date.

Dillinger's Machine Gun Wielder Is Thought to Be Cornered On Wisconsin Indian Reservation; Posse Closes In

St. Paul Officers on Watch for "Baby Face" Nelson

St. Paul, April 27—(AP)—Indications that George "Baby Face" Nelson, Dillinger gangster might have tried to reach St. Paul were given today when St. Paul police flashed squad cars to pick up an automobile bearing the same license plates as the car in which Nelson was reported to have been escaping a posse near Fifield, Wis., early today.

Meanwhile, from Lac du Flambeau, Wis., came reports that an Indian, Ollie Catfish, had been the unwilling guide of Nelson in the latter's escape from a cordon of possemen early today. Catfish, returning to his home, told him he had been forced to guide the Dillinger gangster to freedom.

Had Out in Shack
The man who answered the description of Nelson is believed to have spent two days in an Indian shack at Fence Lake in the Lac du Flambeau district. Last night he left the shack and stole the car of Adolph Getz, a Merrill rural letter carrier who was fishing at a lake near here.

Picking up Catfish, the gangster, the Indian said carried three pistols, forced the Indian to show him the way to highway 70 which leads west to Fifield. Catfish rode with his captor to a junction of the Lac du Flambeau road and highway 70 four miles southwest of here.

There the Indian was forced from the car and walked back to the town where he described his captor as a man of about 40, five feet tall and speaking in an unusually high voice.

Nelson turned toward Fifield on highway 70, Catfish reported.

Levi Carpenter's Funeral Sunday at Polo M. E. Church

(Telegraph Special Service)
Polo, Minn., April 27—The funeral of Levi Carpenter will be held at his late home at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon and at the Methodist church at 2:30, Rev. Lester M. Minard officiating, and with burial at the Brick cemetery.

IS FIRST RECOVERED
St. Paul, Minn., April 27—(AP)—Federal agents arrested a man in Chicago Thursday and recovered $3,600 of the $200,000 ransom paid for the release of Edward Bremer, St. Paul banker, kidnaped last January. It was learned today.

The source of this information declared that this was the first of the ransom money recovered by authorities.

The suspect seized in Chicago was described as "hot."

An informant also disclosed to day federal men who tried to trap John Dillinger and his gang at a Wisconsin resort Sunday night did not find any Bremer ransom money there, as previously reported.

None of the $200,000 paid for Bremer's release February 7, after he had been held captive 22 days, had been recovered until the arrest of the man in Chicago Thursday.

The circumstances of the seizure were not learned immediately, but the suspect apparently was believed to have had an actual part in the kidnaping engineered by at least 10 or 12 men.

ANNUAL EFFORT TO ARREST SUN STARTS SUNDAY

Clocks Go Ahead in Several States in Early Morning

New York, April 27—(AP)—The annual American effort to arrest the sun and stretch daylight over the recreational end of the day will start Sunday and affect some thirty million people. Clocks go ahead one hour in several states.

Another hundred million persons will be affected elsewhere in the world before the summer is over. The figures come from the Merchants Association of New York which every year undertakes the task of studying the situation.

Statistics bring statewide daylight saving to Massachusetts and Rhode Island. New York observes it in 202 cities and villages, New Jersey in 118, Pennsylvania in 70, Illinois in 21, Indiana in 19, Delaware in 3 and Vermont in one.

State laws forbid it in Connecticut, Maine and New Hampshire. Nevertheless, the Merchants Association reports, 33 cities will observe it in Connecticut, 36 in Maine and 20 in New Hampshire.

Michigan and Ohio don't have daylight saving time, but accomplish the same thing by following Eastern Standard time throughout. The entire territory of Hawaii comes under the new time. So do 62 cities in Canada.

LABOR UNIONS SEEK CONTROL OF NRA BOARD

Undercover Struggle Is About to Break Out Into Open

Washington, April 27—(AP)—The high command of the American Federation of Labor, working quietly within NRA, had underway today a new drive to block official sanction of company unions.

The A. F. of L. effort has run counter to the views of Hugh S. Johnson, creating an undercover struggle which both sides have been seeking to settle before it breaks into open controversy.

The Labor Advisory Board has been under the command of William Green, President of the A. F. of L. and has been solid with federal officials since Leo Wolman, longtime chairman, was put in charge of the Detroit automobile board. For the past three weeks, without publicity the labor board has taken a militant stand.

Two Requests Denied
Early this month it presented to Johnson a string of requests, two of which were denied: The old demand for labor membership on all code authorities, and the grant of exclusive right for the advisory board to make nominations to the labor side of the industrial relations board being created under each code.

Johnson's objection to the latter was said to have been that the board would nominate only Federation of Labor men, regardless of whether the industry involved was organized under it, or by independent or company unions, or was totally non-union.

Johnson Barks Down
The reply of the labor board has been that company unions should have no legal standing, and that in any event Federation men would refuse to sit on any board with spokesmen for company unions.

When the Labor Advisory Board got to talk of staging a walkout on NRA, Johnson sent aides to confer with them in search of a peaceful understanding. At a meeting yesterday the board decided to continue conversations.

Three Bank Robbers Surrender Gladly After Trudging Miles Through Swamp Lands of Arkansas Pursued by Posse

Pine Bluff, Ark., April 27—(AP)—Willing captives after trudging through miles of Arkansas swamp lands in a futile flight from posess, three men accused of robbing the Merchants & Farmers Bank of Dumas, Ark., rested in jail today.

"We were ready to quit," said J. O. Hiltbrand, 24, of Little Rock, one of the weary trio. "I'll bet we walked 48 miles through those swamps."

Hiltbrand and his companions William Cantrell, 18, of Harlan, Ky., and Thomas Richmond, 26, of Conway, Ark., were overtaken here last night.

A city marshal was wounded as the robbers fled after the holdup.

Officers said $815 of the $954 taken in the robbery was recovered from the trio. They were held for a hearing May 2 on bank robbery charges.

SEARCHERS ARE WITHDRAWN TO SAVE HER LIFE

Family Is Ready to Pay Ransom for 6-Year-Old Arizona Girl

Tucson, Ariz., April 27—(AP)—A Pima county Deputy Sheriff, who declined to allow his name to be used, said today he understood a contact had been made during the night with the kidnapers of six-year-old June Robles.

The contact, if it was made, was believed to have followed a temporary withdrawal of official and volunteer searchers at 2 A. M. by request of the Robles family.

No immediate confirmation of the negotiation report was forthcoming. Members of the family were quoted by investigators as saying they desired to negotiate direct with the abductors, if possible, fearing the little dark-eyed girl's life would be forfeited if the search continued much longer without result.

Safety Comes First
"The safety of the child comes first," Under Sheriff Colby A. Farrar said in announcing that hundreds of peace officers, ranchers, cowboys and volunteers had been ordered to halt the search for the girl who is being held for $15,000 ransom.

His action was taken after the father of the girl, and Carlos Robles, her uncle, announced they were ready to meet the demands of the kidnapers. Another factor in their decision was the contention of the child's mother, who was reported near a collapse.

Hope that the abductors might establish a contact with the Robles soon was expressed by Farrar, who declined to give a reason for his expectation.

"The main object in the case," said Carlos Robles, spokesman for the family, "I believe, is to have the girl returned safely to her family. For that reason I have accepted for myself and other members of the family the decision that the officers withdraw from the case in order to permit us to negotiate with the kidnapers in the hope that we may have the girl returned safely to her home. The officers have been kind enough to accept and agree to withdraw."

Mother Seriously Ill
County Attorney Clarence Houston said that the serious condition of Mrs. Robles influenced the decision to pay ransom and halt the hunt.

Previously the search had extended into canyons and desert wastes surrounding Tucson. Cowboys, ranchers, veterans and peace officers.

MILK PRICE

Due to prevailing unusual conditions, it is impractical for the Borden Company to announce in advance the price it will pay for fluid milk delivered and accepted.

Therefore, until further notice, the price for fluid milk will not be announced until after said milk is delivered and accepted. The price will be published within five (5) days after the period for which the company will have heretofore announced the price in advance.

ASSESSOR AT WORK

Assessor George Fruin has started a force of deputies circulating 1934 tax schedules in Dixon township, and explaining the new provisions. Those who are assisting in the survey work at present are H. E. Morris, L. R. Redfern and Wiley George.

The township assessor's office over Ford Hopkins drug store will be open beginning next Monday from 8 o'clock in the morning until 5 in the evening for the accommodation of tax payers in filing their schedules. Saturday evenings the office will be open from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Villa Park Bank

Held Up this Noon

Chicago, Apr. 27—(AP)—Five well dressed bandits, their faces masked by handkerchiefs, held up the suburban Villa Park Trust & Savings bank shortly before noon today and escaped with $4000 in cash after terrorizing three employees and two customers. They overtook between $8000 and $10,000 in a vault.

Four of the bandits entered the bank, while the fifth remained on guard with a machine gun in an automobile outside.

While one man guarded the prisoners, the other two entered the cashiers cage and scooped up all the money in sight.

All four then backed out and the bandit's car sped away in the direction of Chicago.

Cubs vs Cardinals

Only Game Played

Today: Cold, Rain

New York, Apr. 27—(AP)—The young major league baseball season today ran into the worst weather it has suffered this spring.

All of the eastern games were postponed in both the American, National and International Leagues and several of the western.

Only the St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, opening a series at Chicago, saw the sun and the weather there was more suited for football than baseball. They planned to put on their woolen underwear, however, and play it out.

Motor Fuel Taxes

Ahead of Last Year

Springfield, Ill., April 27—(AP)—Despite seasonal decreases during the winter months, motor fuel tax collections are running well ahead of those for a year ago. Finance Director K. L. Ames, Jr., today announced that gas tax revenues for the six months ending March 31 totaled $14,054,866.20, up nearly $800,000 in a year.

March collections were $1,947,606.83. Following the recent trend, they were less than February's $2,150,110.78 but ahead of the $1,806,758.82 received for March, 1933.

FACTOR'S HOPE OF STAYING IN
U. S. DISPELLEDTouhy Gangster, Taken
Yesterday, Not to be Tried Here

Chicago, April 27—(AP)—Ludwig (Dutch) Schmidt, member of the defunct Touhy gang, today faced removal to Charlotte, N. C. on charges of participation in a $105,000 mail truck robbery last November.

With Schmidt's removal fades John Factor's chances of deferring his extradition to England, as prosecutors announced last night that Schmidt would not be tried for the wealthy speculator's kidnapping.

Schmidt's arrest was not sensational. He was apprehended by a Chicago policeman walking his beat yesterday. In his pockets were a $10 bill and some change. He said he had been in Chicago one day. Prosecutors said Schmidt was in prison at the time of the Factor abduction last summer, and joined the Touhy gang later.

Isaac Costner, reformed gang member, cleared Schmidt of complicity in the Factor kidnapping, but named him in the mail robbery case.

Factor is in jail at Sycamore, Ill., awaiting extradition to England to face stock swindling charges.

Searchers Are—

cers joined the greatest manhunt Arizona has ever known under the leadership of Sheriff's officers and Chief of Police C. A. Wollard, captor of John Dillinger.

While the hunt was underway a second ransom note was received and branded as false by Farrar. That note reduced the ransom demand from $15,000 to $10,000. Farrar said to direct word had come from the abductors since the first ransom demand was delivered to Fernando Robles two hours after June was seized Wednesday as she was returning from school.

Some hours previously, Farrar said, authorities had concluded that the second note, received yesterday by the child's grandfather, Bernarde Robles, was not from the abductors; but this information was withheld in the hope it would trick the real kidnappers into action which might lead to their capture.

ASSAILANTS OF
NEWSPAPER MEN
SEEK PROBATIONAuto Race Drivers in Los Angeles Plead
Guilty to Charge

Los Angeles, April 27—(AP)—Two automobile racing drivers today sought probation on their pleas of guilty to assaulting a newspaper reporter and photographer.

On May 10 they will appear for sentence before Judge Charles S. Burnell who yesterday told them "you look the wrong way about it when you attempted to tell the editors what they could do."

Babe Stapp, originally indicted for kidnapping James Lee, Examiner reporter, and Louis Tonal, charged with felonious assault of John Bennis, photographer for the newspaper, pleaded guilty to the reduced charges after their counsel explained they realized they were "wrong" in the methods they chose to express their opinions.

Lee and Bennis were abducted from the funeral of Ernie Triplett, famous driver killed in a race track crash, by a group of men who objected to the Examiner's campaign against what it called "legalized murder" in automobile racing. The group took the reporter and photographer to the editorial rooms where spokesmen told the editors to stop their campaign.

The first group of 23 camels was brought from Egypt by General E. F. Beale, picturesque character of early California, and pressed into Army service in 1856. Forty-four others were imported from Siberia in 1876.

Soldiers Hated Them

The camels served for a while in the Indian campaigns, but the Army soon learned to hate them. "They don't understand cuss words," the packers complained.

Beale imported two "Arabs" to take charge of the beasts. Unfortunately, according to the story, one of them turned out to be a Greek and the other an American.

After the beasts were given dishonorable discharges about the Army, some wandered about the Arizona desert for many years.

Several years later, Beale rounded up as many of the camels as he could and took them to his Rancho Tejon, near Bakersfield. He frequently drove to Los Angeles behind a couple of camels in tandem.

Drivers' License

Law Discussed at

Capital Meeting

Springfield, Ill., Apr. 27—(AP)—Legislation to license automobile drivers as a safeguard against carelessness and irresponsibility for accidents was discussed today at the first meeting of the Illinois conference on highway safety legislation.

Delegates were ready to recommend steps designed to reduce the high toll of automobile deaths and injuries.

The plan is to provide for the suspension of reckless and irresponsible motorists' right to drive automobiles until they have paid for damages caused and provided for payment of future damages.

Those on the program included B. P. Alschuler, Aurora; Frank Kreml, Evanston; States Attorney William E. Gilmore, Champaign; and J. S. Baker and James E. Bulger, Chicago.

Mrs. Helmick Entertains S. S. Class

The Women's Bible Class of the Methodist Episcopal church, held their April meeting at the home of Mrs. D. E. Helmick Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn. Mrs. W. H. Brewster then read as a Scripture lesson the First Chapter of the Book of James, followed by prayer. She then gave an interesting manner the biography of Charlotte Elliott, composer of that sacred hymn, "Just As I Am Without One Plea." The class then sang the song.

Mrs. Bressett played two piano numbers, "Mountain Serenade," by Schmidt and "Valse in E Flat," by Durante. These were enjoyed by all present. Mrs. W. J. Hintz then introduced Miss Esther Barton who gave a talk on "Egypt." This was most interesting and excellently given.

A short business meeting followed. Mrs. Harry Hintz and her committee served dainty refreshments. Following this a short social time was enjoyed by the thirty-two present.

Mother Nature's Woodland Diary; The Early Flowers

To a nature lover the season is distinguished by the flowers and birds that appear and abound at that time. Eagerly a nature lover watches each wild flower as it comes above the ground. Our earliest spring flower, although it has an ugly name, is, on close examination, really beautiful. The Skunk Cabbage blossom comes up late in February or early in March, long before its leaves appear, and it is the blossom that is interesting. In itself a tiny thing, perfect in development; pinkish and waxy in color and character, enveloped by a spathe which is shell shaped, pinkish veined with purple. Really, the name keeps it from being admired as much as it might be. By the time the large leaves have appeared the blossoms have withered, and the seeds have dropped into the ground almost like little bulbs. By this time the robin has come and the nest built.

Former Teacher Weds in Denver

A very quiet wedding of much interest to many Ashton folk took place in Denver, Colorado, on Wednesday, April 18, when Miss Miriam Rosecrans of that city, formerly of Ashton, became the bride of Arthur Lamb also of Denver. The wedding ceremony took place at the home of the bride just before noon, the single ring ceremony being read by Dr. Lough. The couple were unattended and following the ceremony enjoyed a wedding luncheon prepared at the home.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rosecrans of Ashton and graduated in 1916 from that high school where she was later engaged for several years as instructor. After serving as a missionary in Panama she went to Denver, Colorado where she received her Master's Degree at Denver University.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb expect to leave in two weeks for a trip through the south and will reach Ashton for a visit with relatives and friends in June.

(From the Chicago Herald and Examiner)

There can be no real doubt that Dr. William A. Wirt of Gary, Ind., sincerely believes there is an element in the present administration, important in numbers and even more so in influence, which is aiming to bring about a social revolution in the United States.

Both in his letter of March 23, made public by James H. Rand, Jr. in testifying before the House interstate commerce committee, and in his examination before the special committee of the House of Representatives, Dr. Wirt stated what is common talk in all circles in Washington and throughout the country.

His treatment by the House committee left much to be desired in courtesy and a just understanding of a respected citizen and a good American obviously attempting to perform what he considered a duty.

It is our belief, and we think that of most sound-thinking Americans, that he has rendered a distinct and valuable public service and is entitled to commendation.

The apparent determination of the special committee of the House to narrow the inquiry as much as possible by confining Dr. Wirt to a literal recital of precisely what was said to him, in what words and by whom, showed either a most unintelligent attitude toward the subject under examination or a narrow and partisan effort to outdo zeal itself in punishing a man with the effrontery to call in question any phase of the national administration.

No one with regard for the truth will dispute the fact that the departments at Washington are full of rattle-brained college-boy advisers seeking to put into practice, and write into administrative measures and regulations, a lot of sickly Soviet bunk which their adolescent or half-baked minds have not been able to digest or sensibly appraise.

When the general counsel of the National Recovery Administration says in a public address—"The long discussed revolution is actually under way in the United States. It is here. It is in process"—what earthly reason is there for trying to rend asunder the modest educator, Dr. Wirt, for saying far less?

How comic an old political warhorse like Speaker Rainey appears, with his mock indignation against Dr. Wirt, when Secretary Wallace of the President's cabinet is on record as holding that "our people on the street and on the soil must change their attitude concerning the nature of men and the nature of human society," and discusses at great length the "enduring social transformation, such as our new deal," interspersing his thesis with arguments for the necessity of a "regimented" public opinion, which, if it means anything, means the suppression of free speech and a free press.

Disquieting and significant as such statements may be, they are nothing compared with the outgivings of Dr. Rexford Tugwell, whose influence and intimacy as an adviser of the President are perhaps as great as those of any one within the presidential circle.

Tugwell is now busy explaining and disavowing, but the frequency and unmistakable tolerance with which he cites the principles and the practices of the Soviet republic render his disclaimers unconvincing.

If Congress is really desirous of finding out how dangerously radical some of the college-boy advisers of the administration are, it could do so readily by asking Mr. Richberg, Gen. Johnson's chief adviser and aid, what he meant when he said, "The revolution is already here."

But, as we said, the investigating committee is evidently anxious to smother the whole discussion and is determined to do so, as was shown in its cavalier treatment of that fine American and distinguished ex-senator, James A. Reed, who attempted unsuccessfully, as counsel, to secure for Dr. Wirt a genuine and proper hearing.

Whether the radicalism of the administration is really dangerous or not will be disclosed, however, sooner or later.

RARE OCCURRENCE.

The riots in Minneapolis, following discontinuance of the CWA work there, were singularly tragic, and the accounts of them make very depressing reading.

And yet their occurrence merely serves to emphasize the fact that we have come through four very difficult years with an amazingly small number of such disorders.

The endurance of many citizens has been strained almost to the breaking point. Yet the country, on the whole, has been extremely orderly and long-suffering.

Riots like this one in Minneapolis have been the exception, not the rule.

This being the case, it is the duty of the authorities to lean over backward in handling such outbreaks. America's unemployed have earned the right to lenient treatment when they do kick over the traces.

Ours was the oddest, strangest romance in history. But she's going to stay married to me whether she likes it or not.—Albert N. Hutchins, husband of Nila Cram Cook.

A lottery is all right in Spanish-American republic, but I don't think this country wants to go along such a line in raising revenue.—Speaker Henry T. Rainey.

PSYCHOLOGIC POST-MORTEM

In the days when it was difficult to procure human bodies for dissection, students of anatomy had to depend upon the nefarious services of body snatchers.

There sprang up a ghoulish brotherhood that, for a consideration, would empty a freshly dug grave. This unfortunate practice, arising out of the conflict between the needs of science and the fears and prejudices of ignorance, has been completely eliminated.

In recent years, with the marked advance in psychologic interest and study, a new form of exhumation has developed, in which not the bodies but the characters of dead men are subjected to dissection and scrutiny.

This is far from a ghoulish practice. It represents a valuable service, rendered alike to science and to art. The works of great men and the deeds of famous and notorious characters are rendered more understandable.

How much may be learned in this direction is shown in the case of Charles Lamb, the centenary of whose death was celebrated a short while ago. Charles Lamb is famed for his literary achievements, but his medical history is also of note.

There ran through his family a strong tendency toward insanity. His sister Mary, with whom he produced the unique "Tales from Shakespeare," suffered from acute

When Boy Blue jumped up to his feet, sad Scouty, "I want you to meet my little pals, the Tiny-Timmys. We have come to visit you."

"Old Mother Goose let us all come to this land, so we'd have some fun." Then Boy Blue smiled and bowed real low, and said, "How do you do?"

"Oh, we do everything we like," said Duncy. "And we like to hike around to see strange places. Why we have been 'most everywhere."

"We have traveled far beneath the sea, and that's as thrilling as can be. We've also had a lot of trips away up in the air."

"My goodness, but that must be fun. Why, all I do all day is run around and tend my cows and sheep. Come, I must find them, now."

"While I was sleeping beneath the hay, I guess they must have walked away. Unless I find them shortly there will be an awful row. 'You see, a girl who's called Bo Peep asked me to watch her flock of sheep. If she knew they were missing, I don't know what she'd do."

Then Coppy said, "They can't be far away from right where we all are. Why not start out to look for them right now? We will all help you."

Soon Dotty shouted, "Mercy me! Just see who is sitting beneath that tree! It is poor Bo Peep. She is crying, too! I am going to find out why."

With Goldy, she ran to the lass and said, "My, my, what has come to pass? We are friends who want to help you. Tell us, please, what makes you cry?"

"I just saw Boy Blue," said Bo Peep. "What has he done with my poor sheep? I know they are not with him. It is no wonder I'm in tears."

"Don't worry miss. We'll look around until all of your sheep are found. I am sure they must be grazing near, so please allay your fears."

(The sheep give Duncy a scare in the next story.)

No Moratoria Will be Enacted During Current Sessions

Springfield, Ill., April 26—(AP)—No mortgage moratorium law will be enacted by the third special session. The House today refused to act on the moratorium issue, leaving bills buried in a special committee.

Opponents argued that mortgaged farmers and home owners do not need relief now, since federal agencies are making loans.

Rep. James T. Burns, Kankakee Democrat, made another attempt to discharge the committee which is considering several moratoria bills, based upon the Minnesota law upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States. The vote was 26 to 16.

Action has been taken on all other subjects which Governor Horner included in the special session call

House Refuses to Provide for Study of School Problems

Springfield, Ill., Apr. 26—(AP)—For the second time, the House today refused to appropriate $10,000 for a legislative commission to study the school financing problem and recommend permanent reforms.

Rep. Thomas J. Sinnott of Rock Island, Democratic leader, was forced to suspend consideration of his bill when it failed to get enough votes.

Spokesmen for school teachers argued that the appropriation would be a waste of money and that full information on the school problem is now available.

SUNNY SUNDAYS.. RAINY MONDAYS.. YOUR MOTOR PURRS WITH ALL-WEATHER MOBILGAS!

SOME people don't realize that engines are sensitive to Spring's sudden changes of weather.

These changes cannot affect your car if you use Mobilgas. For this gasoline has Climatic Control.

In simple words—Climatic Control means your gasoline has been specially preadjusted at the refinery to take care of all weather conditions, rain or shine, hot or cold. Your engine will run at its best all of the time instead of some of the time.

There never was a better time than now to put Climatic Control to the test. Use Mobilgas regularly for the next few changeable weeks and notice the difference. More pep—more power—more fun!

Just stop at any Mobilgas station—where you get the all-weather gas. Vacuum Oil Company, Inc.—a Socony-Vacuum company.

SPORTS
OF ALL SORTSCUBS' WINNING STREAK ENDS IN
THURSDAY GAMEHomer by Bottomley In Ninth Gives Reds
Victory

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the first failure of a Cub starting pitcher to go the route, Chicago's seven game winning streak that opened the National League season in sensational style has come to an end. And the only flinger who has pitched consistent ball for the Phillies wound up that Club's seven game string of defeats at the same time.

The Cubs met their Waterloo yesterday facing the Cincinnati Reds, a former "jinx" which had been thoroughly dissipated by five beatings so far this season. Charley Root ran into a streak of wildness in the second and had to give way to Bud Tinning but even then it took a ninth inning homer by Sunny Jim Bottomley with one on to earn Cincinnati a 3-4 victory.

Previously Chuck Klein had walked his fourth homer to help Chicago take the lead.

Collins Hold Giants

Fidgety Phil Collins, who had held the New York Giants to four hits in his first start, came right back at them with a five-hitter to pitch the Phils to their first triumph, 3-2. Eban Allen's homer in the sixth spelled the winning run.

Pitching also dominated the other two National League games as the Boston Braves turned back Brooklyn 2-0 in a duel between old Tom Zachary and young Emil Leonard in which each allowed six hits; and Bill Hallahan's six hits flinging aided the St. Louis Cardinals in a 10-1 triumph over Pittsburgh. Spud Davis' homer in the seventh with two on ended a flinching argument between Hallahan and Ralph Birkner.

Senators Shaken Up

A big shakeup at Washington, which brought a 10-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox, furnished the high spot of the American League's three-game program. Manager Joe Cronin benched Ossie Bluege, Buddy Myer and Johnny Stone in favor of Cecil Travis, Bob Boken and Sheriff Dave Harris, and came up with a combination that scored eight runs in the first two innings and pounded four flingers for 15 hits.

Vic Sorrell's expert five hit hurling and some timely hitting by Hank Greenberg gave Detroit's Tigers a 2 to 1 triumph over the White Sox and sent them back into first place. A pair of rookies, Joe Cascarella and Frank Hayes, led the Athletics to a 3 to 2 victory over the Yankees. Cascarella pitched three-hit ball after relieving Roy Mahafey in the fifth while Hayes batted in the winning tally with a double in the ninth.

The Cleveland-St. Louis encounter was rained out.

GOLF

By Art Krenz

MENTAL CONDITION IS

BIG FACTOR ON PUTTS

IN PUTTING, THE

WRISTS MUST BE

ALLOWED FREEDOM

AND THE CLUB

MUST NOT BE

GRIPPED TOO TIGHTLY

All golf authorities will agree that it was Jones' mental condition that caused him to putt so erratically in his recent attempted comeback.

Mental condition has a greater bearing on the putting green than in any other department of play.

If one is upset by a tee shot that has found the rough, or by some other unlucky break in reaching the green, he will soon find the muscles of the forearms and wrists tightening. This will cause the ball to be stabbed instead of being stroked smoothly. The wrists must be allowed freedom and the club must not be gripped too firmly.

Forget approach mistakes and think only of sending the ball to the bottom of the can.

FORMER HARMON WOMAN MOURNED BY MANY THERE

Mrs. Henrietta Stern Buhrow Once Lived in the Village

By Margaret McDermott
Harmon—Miss Mabel Miller has secured employment in Rockford and left the forepart of the week for that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mannion were recent callers in Sterling. Ted Lucislock, who spent several days here at the D. D. Conscience home, returned to his home in Chicago the latter part of the week.

Frank Kugler was out to his farm a couple of days this week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, who have been staying here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gaskill, recently went to Sterling where they have secured employment.

The Ray Hermes farm home northeast of town, which was badly damaged by fire several weeks ago, has been repaired and is ready for occupancy. The family expects to move into the house soon.

L. R. Mathias, monument salesman, was here from Dixon the latter part of the week on business. Some of our older folks will remember Mrs. Henrietta Stern Buhrow of Sterling who passed away Friday, April 13, at the ripe age of 80 years, two months and seven days, as she and her husband resided here some fifteen years ago.

Mrs. Buhrow was born on Feb. 6, 1854 in Bielburg, Germany. She was married in the year 1876 to Karl T. Buhrow which union was blessed with six children, of whom one son died in infancy and one daughter in childhood. The four daughters who survive are Mary Buhrow, Mrs. Anna Rock, Mrs. Bertha Robinson and Minnie Buhrow, all of Sterling.

Mr. Buhrow was called out of this life Dec. 1, 1926. The departed was a lifelong member of the Lutheran church, and a faithful member of the ladies' aid society. The dance held in St. Flannan's hall Tuesday evening was very successful and everyone had a very enjoyable time.

Miss Gertrude Blackburn was out from Sterling and spent the week-end at the home of her sister, Mrs. P. J. O'Malley.

Rain is needed and needed badly by the farmers here. All over this part of the state drainage ditches are drying up, while the soil is so dry that little dampness is turned up under the plow. Unless a rain comes in the near future, the crop

Too Old Fashioned, Say the New Dealers

First it was the Navy (which disapproved a PWA painting of sailors on New York's Riverside Drive) and now it is the Department of Agriculture that has become involved in an art controversy. If you ask Rexford Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, the huge mural Gilbert White has painted for the new Agricultural Building isn't quite modern enough, especially for a building dedicated to the New Deal. So there will be no formal unveiling when the work is done. A section of the landscape, the product of three years' work, is shown above, with White standing at the left.

outlook will be extremely bad the farmers report.

Wayne Whitmore, who has spent the past six months in the state of Oregon with relatives returned home the early part of the week. Miss Helen Miller returned to her duties as student nurse at St. Joseph's hospital in Aurora after spending the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Janowitz and children motored here from Peoria Sunday to visit at the George Long and the I. H. Perkins homes over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Aurel Jacobs and baby were over from Amboy Sunday and visited at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna Portner.

Miss Mary Rose Long was a visitor in Sterling the early part of the week.

Mrs. Raymond Delhotel motored to Dixon on Monday afternoon.

A couple from here attended the dance in St. Mary's hall in Walton Wednesday, reporting a good time.

Quite a number from here motored to Dixon Friday afternoon to listen to the talk "Health After Forty," which was very ably given by Miss Fannie Brooks, health

FARMS AROUND ASHTON NEED WATER BADLY

Tillers of Soil are Greatly Concerned Over Dry Spring

By MRS. E. TILTON
ASHTON—The Rev. Parke O. Bailey has returned from the conference held by the Evangelical churches of Northern Illinois at Aurora where assignments were made for the ensuing year. Ashton folks are pleased to learn that the Rev. Bailey will be returned as pastor of the Ashton church and the Rev. George Walter as pastor of the Reynolds church.

The young people of the Presbyterian church met to hold their election with the following selected to guide the organization the coming year:

President—Miss Nellie Corrine Atting

Vice president—Evelyn Semler

Sec-Treas.—Sam Moore

The young people will assist with the musical section of the morning program on Sunday.

Mrs. C. P. Bleking has been appointed an officer in the Franklin Grove P. T. A.

Supervisor and Mrs. Perley Cross were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cross at dinner on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Travis attended a banquet tendered employees of the A. & P. stores of this section at Chicago.

Mrs. Fred Wood who has been seriously ill and under the care of a nurse, is recovering and able to discharge her nurse.

Don Cross has been having a painful time with an infected finger which is now improving.

Mrs. Frances Meling and small son, Mahlon, of Rochelle were guests at the Aaron Meling home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester O'Neil of Sonoma were guests of the A. A. Dugdale and Ed Wood homes on Sunday.

The Misses Kathryn and Nellie Griffith will be hostesses to the Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church on Friday.

Eight members of the Woman's club of Ashton attended the Lee county convention at Amboy on Saturday. Among the speakers of the day were Mrs. Myrtle Heer, president of the Thirtieth District I. P. W. C. and Senator Mason, president of the Illinois I. T. A., both of whom gave most interesting and instructive talks. Those from Ashton attending were Mrs. A. J. Orner, president, Mrs. Anna Witzel, secretary, Mrs. Mary Orner, Mrs. Dora Krug, Mrs. William Hart, Miss Lucille Hart, Mrs. Emma Drummond and Mrs. Mildred Cloger. Ashton club will be represented at the district convention at Carroll by Mrs. A. J. Orner and Miss Lucille Hart.

Ashton R. N. A. meet on Tuesday evening for an evening devoted to cards.

The Philathea class of the Presbyterian church met with Mrs. Kathryn Schnell on Thursday evening with assisting hostess Mrs. Vincent Arnold, Mrs. Semler and Mrs. Mildred Meister.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Roland Huntley were largely attended by sorrowing relatives and friends at the Flag Center church on Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Frank Campbell officiating.

Mrs. Huntley, nee Nellie Hathaway, was born in White Rock township, September 29, 1902. October 12 she was united in marriage to Roland Huntley and to them were born two daughters, Marjorie and Deloise, eighteen months and three years of age. She is survived by her husband, the two small daughters, one brother, Lloyd and many relatives and friends who mourn the passing of a devoted mother and friend. Interment was made at Flag Center cemetery.

The residents of Ashton and the neighboring communities are cordially invited to be the guests of the Ashton Woman's club at its open meeting at the Ashton Methodist church Saturday afternoon. Miss Louise Comstock, formerly a teacher in the local schools now a Chicago journalist, is to be the guest speaker.

Mrs. A. J. Orner, president of the Ashton Woman's Club, has called a business session for the club members to be held in the league room at 2:00 o'clock. The J. M. C. Ensemble will play during the assembling of the guests in the church auditorium, and the program proper will commence at 2:30 o'clock. The program is under the supervision of the Literature Department of the club with Mrs. William H. Hart and Mrs. Cecil Calhoun as chairmen. Following is the program.

Tea and an informal reception will conclude the afternoon.

Among those from Dixon who attended the services for the late Mrs. Huntley were Mrs. Cynthia Emmons, and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hardesty.

Mrs. Sarchet of Minneapolis is a guest of many old friends of the community. Mrs. Sarchet, a former Ashton resident, became the bride of Rev. Sarchet while he served the Ashton Presbyterian church as pastor many years.

The adult class of the M. E. Sunday school were guests of Mrs. Conrad Smith Tuesday evening.

Ashton O. E. S. No. 375 will be represented at the Forest City O. E. S. Tuesday evening of next week by Mrs. Mildred Cloger, matron of the local chapter, who will serve as Warder and Mrs. A. P. Orner and Mrs. Mildred Smith.

Eight grade pupils of the Ogle county schools north of town will meet at Oregon Saturday when they will take the final examinations.

Guests of Mrs. E. A. Clover Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Struke of Midolman, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Mathew McCullough of Oregon.

Mrs. Fred Travis was hostess to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bastian and family Saturday.

Mrs. Ammeretta Cooley has been quite ill at her home in Washington Grove.

Mrs. Amanda Hardesty who spent the winter with her granddaughter in Chicago is now back to Washington Grove.

Many friends of the community are interested in the announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Dentler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dentler of Kings. Miss Dentler, for several years a capable nurse of Rockford hospital, will become the bride of Elmer G. Stevens of Kishwaukee.

Mr. Stevens is a graduate of Rockford high school, studied at Grove City college in Pennsylvania, and is now connected with the law firm of Smith & Recknow of Rockford. The wedding will be in June. The bride-to-be is a granddaughter of Mrs. Janet Dugdale of the Grove.

Edison Vogel of LaFayette township has been summoned on the next term of court on the grand jury and Fred Southwick of Pine Creek on the petit jury.

Ralph Kurth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kurth, who has been unconscious since late Saturday afternoon, remains in much the same condition. Doctors think that the young man, although seriously injured, will recover.

Miss Helen Hart, accompanied by two friends of Chicago, will be the guest of her parents during a week's vacation from school duties in Chicago.

Following a day which could compete very favorably with that of Kansas on a windy day, our community was visited by a snow storm of ten minutes duration early Tuesday morning. The flakes melted rapidly and it was the general wish that they had continued to fall the entire day as the lack of moisture is giving local farmers cause for alarm.

A cordial invitation to all women of Ashton is extended by the Ashton Woman's club to their meeting of Saturday, April 28 at the M. E. church.

Polo O. E. S. Guest Night Attended by Over Two Hundred

By Kathryn Keagy
Polo—"Guest Night" of the Eastern Star was observed Tuesday evening. There were about 200 present including guests from Rock Falls, Sterling, Dixon, Savanna, Milledgeville, Chadwick, Rochelle, Freeport, Lanark, Rockford, Mt. Morris and Oregon. The officers' chairs were filled by visiting worthy matrons. Mrs. Florence Joiner sang two selections and was accompanied by Mrs. Emma Erma Plum. A two course dinner was served at 6:30.

Mrs. Ross Hostetter and Mrs. John Holmquist returned the Philathea class of the Evangelical church at the former's home Tuesday evening.

The Kensington club had a scramble luncheon at the home of Mrs. Floyd Davis Wednesday following the luncheon Mrs. Davis gave an interesting paper on the subject, "Gardening."

Miss Luella Middlekauff returned home Tuesday evening from State College, Pa., where she has spent the winter visiting relatives.

A. S. Tavenner left Wednesday for Nampa, Idaho, to visit his sister Mrs. George R. Proctor.

Dr. E. S. Thomas and George W. Brown transacted business in Chicago Wednesday.

FINAL LITERARY EVENTS TONIGHT AT AMBOY HIGH

Public Is Invited to Attend; Other News Around Amboy

By Frances Leperd

Amboy—May 12 has been set as the date for the annual Junior-Senior party. This year the juniors are entertaining their superiors at a dinner dance. Committees have been chosen and are now busy making the plans. The chairman of the committees are as follows: Program—Betty Leperd.

Foods and Finance—Helen Garrett.

Dining room—Lois Smith.

Moving—Theobald Helbig.

Decorations—Jeanette Welty.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Donahue are the proud parents of a six-pound son born April 24 at the Amboy public hospital.

The Music and Home economics departments of the high school cooperated in presenting a program before the school assembly Tuesday morning. The boys quartette, composed of John Eisenberg, Junior Nicholson, Philip Hammon and John Tourtellot, opened the program with four selections, "The Bells of St. Mary's," "Sleep Kentucky Babe," "Down in Mobile," and "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

Leah Dyer then gave a talk on "Fans" which was demonstrated by Evelyn Eisenberg. This was followed by a talk by Helen Garrett illustrating the use of tin cans in making table ornaments for various occasions. She was assisted by Josephine Luke. Mabel Wiser was next on the program with a talk explaining the ways in which eggs may be decorated and used as place cards or table ornaments. The girls trio composed of Clara May Gray, Helen Curtin and Wanda Reinboth sang three numbers. Lois Smith closed the program with a very interesting talk on colors. She was assisted by Rita Gugerty, Mary Schneider and Mabel Wiser. Immediately following the program the report cards for the fifth, six weeks period were given out to the students.

The finals in the Amboy Township high school literary contest will be held in the school auditorium this (Friday) evening. The public is invited. Preliminaries have been going on for the past two weeks and from each class four representatives have been selected, one for each of the following divisions: dramatic declamation, humorous declamation, oratory and extemporaneous speaking. The winners of the essay contest will also be announced this evening. Those who represented their respective classes were:

Freshmen—James Plate.
Sophomores—Vivian Wolfgram.
Junior—Jeanette Welty.
Senior—Frances Leperd.

Those who did outstanding work in creative writing will also be recognized this evening.

The Central Oil Company has been repainted this week and now presents a very attractive appearance. The service trucks were also repainted.

Those from Amboy and vicinity who went to Dixon to be examined for the CCC group were: Dick Lenihan, Richard Cox, Gerald Barlow, Ray Bybee, John Jones, Mike Gewecke, Harold Smith, George Flint and Delbert Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Leperd were supper guests at the Mabel Orgiesen home in Dixon Wednesday evening.

Leslie Scott of Polo was a business caller here Wednesday.

Janice Garrett had the misfortune to sprain her ankle and is unable to attend school this week.

L. R. Warcham of Dixon called on friends here Wednesday.

Charles Entorf has been repairing the furnace at the Arlington Hotel this week.

Edison's First Fortune

Marshall Lefferts, former president of the Western Union, once engaged Thomas Edison to improve the stock ticker, whereupon the Ohio boy produced the Universal Printer which he thought was worth $5,000, but he would have taken $3,000. When Lefferts asked him if he would take $40,000, the inventor nearly fainted. The teller of the bank where Edison took the check, being a practical joker, gave the Ohio lad the entire amount in small bills. Laboriously stuffing them into every pocket, he took them home and sat up all night to guard his fortune.

No Weddings in Churches

Up to the time of the reformation, Christian churches throughout Europe were considered too sacred for weddings, and these ceremonies had to be performed just outside the front door.

Resolution Aimed At Lobbying Will be Sent to House

Washington—Representative Sabath said he planned to introduce a resolution which would halt all lobbying. It would require all parties interested in pending legislation to register with Congress, stating the nature of their work, their expenses, and salaries they receive.

ORGANIZATION APPROVED
Chicago—A plan of reorganization for the United Public Service

Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, the United Public Utilities Company, was approved by committees representing the holders of both junior and senior securities.

GOOD THOUGHTS

The first lesson to be learned in political economy, is that man does not live by bread alone.
 —David Lloyd George.

A financial crisis can wipe out profits and bring business to a standstill, but character is beyond its reach. The deepest satisfaction of life—those which come from sharing and serving—these remain secure.
 —Roy L. Smith.

Spiritual values are the only reliance of the world in trying to meet present problems. . . . The work of the world will not be done unless it is done from a motive of righteousness.
 —Calvin Coolidge.

The giving of loving, helpful, unselfish service should be the chief concern of everyone engaged in business; and when this is done, the matter of legitimate profit is safely brought under the operation of spiritual law. It may readily be seen that this is being about God's business, and God's business must necessarily be good business.

The young men and women are being ceaselessly and impartially schooled on all, and it is good business to be alert in appropriating these blessings and redistributing them—to be ceaselessly and impartially expressing honesty, unselfishness, justice, helpfulness and love. It is then found that Jesus' statement, "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give unto you your beam."

Water Buffalo Abandoned

Oriental water buffalo imported to Hawaii more than twenty years ago for use as farm animals, and then abandoned, have reverted to wild ways on Molokai Island.

CHURCH

Gilbert Stansell, Pastor. Public Worship and sermon by the Pastor at 10:45. The anthem being, "Radiant Morn Has Passed Away," by Woodard. There will be a four-minute children's sermon by the pastor, and parents are asked to have their children in the service. The organist will present "Vision" by Rheinberger. Four of the old, lovely hymns will be sung, as follows:

"Safely Through Another Week," "Saviour, Thy Dying Love," "A Charge To Keep I Have," "Blest Be the Tie that Binds." Every one is invited. Ask the young men ushers to seat you near the front, as the service will mean more to you. A happy greeting will follow the service. The Pastor wishes to greet everyone in the service.

The Church School opens with a worship service in its four departments. All are invited to the school.

The young People's Fellowship will meet at 5, with Henry Hubbs, as president, Lawrence Leydig, as chorister and Jean Wilson, pianist. The young men and women are above the high school age. Their worship service and discussions are very helpful.

The Epworth League begins at 6:30. The subject is "Social and Civic Relationship in Building a Christian Community." This subject grows out of the Civic experiment our city government allows the high school each year, giving it one day in which to operate the machinery of government. Helen McNichol will be the leader. Naomi Wolf and the Little Orchestra will guide in the hymn sing. Scripture lessons and prayer period will be followed by short talks as follows:

"The Park Board's Opportunity" by Harriet Hardy.

"The Library Board's Work" by Helen Marth and Anna Maloney.

"Compromise is Never Profitable" by Gilbert Stansell, Jr.

"The Ideal in Building a Christian Community" by Lucy Lawton. Evening worship and sermon by the pastor at 7:30.

GRACE EVANGELICAL CHURCH E. Fellows and N. Ottawa. A. D. Shaffer, Pastor. Mrs. O. E. Struck, Organist. The first Sunday after Conference. Let there be a good attendance and may we make it a Rally Day for another year of service together for the Lord.

Services as follows: Morning Prayer at 9:30. Sunday school at 9:45. Harry Giles will direct the Sunday school. Classes are provided for all ages.

Dinner worship at 10:45. Theme: "Do With Thy Might." E. L. C. E. at 6:30. Evening worship at 7:30. Theme: "Life On The Jericho Road." Mid-Week service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

DONNA of the BIG TOP by BEULAH POYNTER

©1934 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY DONNA GABRIEL and MADELINE SIDDAL who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfro's circus. Donna's parents, also circus performers, are dead. Five years earlier Madeline ran away from the middle-western farm where her grandfather, AMOS SIDDAL, lives.

A few days before the circus is to play in her old home town Madeline receives a letter from her grandfather asking her to spend the week-end with him. Madeline begs Donna to go in her place. The two girls look alike and Donna considers it. When BILL SIDDAL, Madeline's cousin, comes for her it is Donna (pretending to be the other girl) who talks to him and later goes to dinner with him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER II [N the dressing room Madeline was changing her costume with the assistance of one of the wild west riders who augmented her salary by acting as maid to the star performers. Madeline's eyebrows lifted at Donna's entrance. "How's the cousin?" she asked. Donna sat down on a folding stool and kicked off the heavy carpet slippers that covered her "soft soles." Dextrously she slipped from one costume into another. If she had heard her partner's question she gave no heed to it for she did not reply.

"It's funny your folks never write to but one of you girls," giggled Madeline's assistant. "Or maybe they write to you together?"

"They do," Madeline informed her. "Beat it, Ruth. I can finish alone." Ruth disappeared. "What's Bill like?" Madeline demanded when she and Donna were alone.

"What you'd expect. A young haysseed. You'd never see him for dust, but," Donna smiled, "I like him. He was so embarrassed it was funny. I guess we were both embarrassed. I'd going to have supper with him after the show."

"I suppose the tight's shocked him out of a year's growth?" "No, I don't think so. After all, being suits are so common that tight's shouldn't mean anything."

"Bathing suits!" Madeline sniffed. "Where would Bill Sidal see a woman in a bathing suit? Outside of Little Creek there isn't a place to swim within 50 miles and no woman ever went swimming in Little Creek."

"That's our cue," Donna said suddenly, not at all sorry to interrupt the discussion of the young man she had just met.

As she tripped lightly across the arena Donna gave a swift glance at the rows of seats, knowing full well that under the blazing lights she could not distinguish Bill Sidal from any other person.

Both girls discarded their cloaks and slippers. With deft overhand movements Donna swung her lithe, perfect body up a swinging rope that led to the flying trapeze. Once she was in position there, Madeline did likewise. The two worked without net, a reckless disregard of life and limb.

DONNA knew that when she swung herself from the trapeze, to grasp it with her dexterous in step an instant later, Con David at ways stood in the wing of the entrance, watching her. Today Con's presence irritated her. She found it difficult to keep her mind on the count that was as necessary as the bars beneath her. Again and again her thoughts returned to the brief encounter with Bill Sidal. She wondered what he had thought of her—she who had never cared for any man's opinion before. She wondered how the trapeze act appeared to him, and if he really believed her to be his cousin. Suddenly Madeline's sharp whisper, "Snap out of it! You almost missed me," brought an end to these speculations.

At last it was over—the chariot races, the wild west show, the grand finale. Lights were extinguished and the audience departed. Donna dressed quickly. She slipped into a printed silk frock that any small town girl might have worn. Her hat was a large straw hat with a wreath of daisies.

"Give him a kiss for me," Madeline laughed as they parted.

"I may tell him the truth," Donna retorted.

"If you do you'll just miss your party, for nothing would induce me to go to that farm!"

Bill was waiting at the spot Donna had designated. "Have I kept you long?" she asked, annoyed that her voice should tremble.

"Not very. It was a good show." He smiled down at her. They walked over the trampled grass to the railroad tracks and Donna said, indicating the string of cars on the siding, "That's my home."

Bill frowned. "Not much of a home for a girl raised among trees and flowers and with plenty of ground around."

They did not speak again until they reached a board walk leading towards the town. Then he said, "I wish I could persuade you to leave the circus and stay home with your grandfather. He's getting pretty old and he talks about you all the time."

"Maybe next winter—" Donna stammered. "Just now it would be impossible."

"I suppose show life is thrilling at least it looks that way, sitting where I did. But there can be a lot of interest around a farm, too. And it would only be while the old man is alive. I thought I'd hate the farm, and at first I did hate giving up what I was doing to settle down in the back woods. I'm sure, though, that if the place were mine I'd get a real kick out of trying to make it the best in the country."

"What were you doing?" Donna asked.

"Studying medicine. I'd have graduated this year if I hadn't quit. When Grandfather went blind some one had to be with him besides—"

"Blind?" Donna gasped.

"Didn't you know? Didn't you get the letter?"

"No. I didn't know." She shivered.

"Is he your sweetheart?" Donna laughed gaily. "Of course not."

"But he'd like to be, huh?" "Perhaps."

DIXON BOY IS MAKING GOOD AS AN EDITOR

U. of I. Alumni Bulletin
Writes Up Dr. Edw.
J. Ryan

The Alumni Bulletin, University of Illinois College of Dentistry publication, contains a very interesting article, the subject of which is Dr. Edward J. Ryan of this city, who is practicing dental surgery in Chicago, as follows:

"Dr. Ryan is a native of Illinois, having been born in Dixon in 1899. He is a graduate of the College of Dentistry, University of Illinois, and served on the faculty of his alma mater as instructor in operative dentistry. He was former chief dental surgeon, County Home for Convalescent Children, and attending dentist, Rush Medical College dispensary, University of Chicago. During the year 1931-32, he served as secretary of the committee on dental economics and vice chairman of the section on dental economics at the 1932 mid-winter meeting. He has served the Chicago Dental Society as its treasurer for the past two years.

"When the new publishers of the Dental Digest, a dental journal of national circulation were looking over available editors for their new publication, they wisely selected Dr. Ryan as 'having a different and refreshing approach to the problems confronting the profession.' Under Dr. Ryan's direction, this magazine has become the most talked of publication in the dental field. Following the successful popularity of the Dental Digest, Dr. Ryan was also offered the editorship of the Oral Hygiene, which he has accepted.

"As a student of dental economics, Dr. Ryan is particularly well known, having talked on the subject before practically every branch of the Chicago society, as well as many state societies and other groups."

Dr. Ryan attended the Dixon schools and before entering the University of Illinois dental college was engaged in newspaper work with The Telegraph. He maintains a beautiful cottage overlooking the Rock river, near Grand Detour.

Living Our Everyday Lives

PEP AND PIFFLE
(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton.)

A famous Greek scholar from Oxford was the guest of a college or women in America. In her enthusiasm, one of the girls asked the scholar to translate the class motto into Greek.

"What may the motto be?" asked the Professor cautiously. "It will give me much pleasure to do it into Greek, if I can."

"The motto is: Pep without Purpose is Piffle," said the girl, sweetly. "In other words, 'all dressed up and nowhere to go.'"

"Or in English," said the Professor, without the quiver of an eyelid: "If we are full of beans and don't pull our legs, we go balmy."

For it is a bit of plain horse-sense, no matter in what language or language it is rendered. If we shoot at nothing, we are certain to hit it. If we start nowhere, we are sure to arrive.

No one can estimate the energy lost, the brain power and even brilliance wasted every day, simply because there is not an atom of purpose behind it all. Aimless living is an appalling futility.

No end of clever people are furiously active, but nothing comes of it. They merely go through the motions of living but do not move an inch, like a squirrel in a cage, having no objective.

Pep, push, punch are very well but unless we have a plan, an aim, a definite purpose, our enthusiasm is of no avail. No wonder so many think that life itself is purposeless, and their own lives empty.

We must organize our lives to some end, giving them direction as well as drive. We have too many parasites, idle girls that live to no purpose and boys that drift with no rudder to no port.

To live without thinking is as fatal as to think without living. We must lower the speed, lighten the luggage, and take sides. Otherwise, in our struggle for the means of living we may lose the meaning of life.

Headon Crash is Fatal to Armour Representative

Carthage, Mo., Apr. 26—(AP)—The headon crash of a motor and a transport truck near here last night claimed the life of a man identified by cards in his pocket as Henry G. Anderson, South St. Paul, Minn., an employee of the transport division, Armour Packing Co.

O. Joplin of Sorinto, Ill., driver of the transport which was carrying three motor cars, escaped with slight hurts. The heavy transport left the highway, crashed into a telephone pole and overturned. Joplin told officials erratic movement of the automobile convinced him the driver of the lighter machine had fallen asleep.

Original "Scottish Terrier"

"The Sweetheart of the Hills" is what the little Cairn terrier is called in his native Scotland. Not only is the Cairn one of the oldest of Highland dog breeds, but it is claimed to be the original "Scottish terrier," from which all the varied little game terriers of Scotland were cultivated in separate groups.

Robinson Bakery Bombed in Night

Robinson, Ill., April 26—(AP)—The Robinson bakery, purchased a month ago by Tony Machetta and Tony Blanche, formerly of Collinsville, Ill., was dynamited early today by three men wearing masks who held up the night shift.

The invaders fired three shots at Ed Bahr, the head baker, and then ordered all employees outside when a bundle of dynamite was thrown into the oven. Damage from the resulting blast was estimated at about $3,500.

Machetta told police he did not know of any enemies, but he said he had been having trouble with Indiana bakers over his sale of bread at five cents a loaf.

History of Cherries

Recorded evidence does not go back far enough to say when wild cherries first became an object of the gardener's care. The early Romans were familiar with eight varieties, and quantities of cherry stones have been found in the lake dwellings of Switzerland.
